International Master Gardener Conference Description:

The very first national meeting of Master Gardener volunteers was held in 1987 in Washington, D.C. Thirty years later, an international gathering of Master Gardeners are planning to convene in Portland, Oregon to:

- learn about the latest research-based sustainable gardening methods and tools;
- network with other Master Gardeners;
- tour botanical gardens, nursery production centers, vineyards and tourist sites; and
- have fun!

The theme of the 2017 conference is “Follow the Oregon Trail to Great Gardening”. Talks, demonstrations, tours and workshops will focus on practical methods for gardening successfully and sustainably and highlight “must-have” plants for gardeners with an array of interests. The Search for Excellence award shares exemplary achievements by Master Gardeners; it facilitates mutual learning and sparks new initiatives in benefit of home gardeners everywhere.

Tax-Deductible Sponsorships:

We welcome sponsors who value the community services of Master Gardeners internationally and support the continuing education afforded to Master Gardeners through this conference. All sponsors will be recognized -at the conference, on the website, in the program. Sponsors will be invited to provide a promotional item (e.g. coupon, brochure, product sample, etc.) for the “goodie” bags that will be distributed to each attendee. If sponsors prefer, they may decline any or all of the sponsor benefits offered. Sponsorship donations will be managed by the Agricultural Research Foundation, a non-profit with 501(c)(3) status from the Internal Revenue Service, and are tax-deductible to the extent permitted by law.
