

KATIE BURGHER

Now:

5th Year Senior at Oregon State University

Katie is in her 5th year at Oregon State University as a student earning two Bachelor degrees, one in Public Health and one in Education with an endorsement in Family and Consumer Science (FACS). She will graduate in the Spring of 2019 hopefully with a job teaching Health and FACS in a high school in either Oregon or Washington.

Email: katieburgher@gmail.com

Then:

Lab Assistant
2014-2016

When Katie started working for Dr. Park she was in the Honors Program at Clatsop Community College working towards her Associate of Arts Oregon Transfer degree. Her mom, Tami Burgher, used to work in the office, so Dr. Park has known Katie since she was a little girl. Although she didn't know very much about food science she had a blast working with everyone in the lab. Katie began working for Dr. Park as a Lab Assistant at the OSU Seafood Lab in 2014. The various projects she took part in were filleting fish for projects, making surimi, assisting Angee and Yuka, and collecting fish bone from frozen sole.