

What Does Access Really Mean?

Mary James, Reed College

Oregon State University

October 16, 2017

References

Articles:

“Psychological Insights for Improved Physics Teaching”, Lauren Aguilar, Greg Walton, and Carl Wieman, Physics Today 67(5), 43 (2014)

“Who Gets to Graduate?” Paul Tough, New York Times Magazine, May 15, 2014

“The Truth About Mentoring Minorities: Race Matters”, D.A. Thomas, Harvard Business Review, 2001.

“Proximal Experiences of Being Othered.” Reddick, 2009. Reddick & Pritchett, 2015.

Carol Dweck on how she is taking a growth mindset to her work on growth mindset:
<http://www.edweek.org/ew/articles/2015/09/23/carol-dweck-revisits-the-growth-mindset.html>

Claude Steele on Stereotype Threat
<https://www.theatlantic.com/author/claude-m-steele/>

Nice short piece on imposter phenomenon:
<https://www.nytimes.com/2015/10/26/your-money/learning-to-deal-with-the-impostor-syndrome.html>

Books:

“Whistling Vivaldi: How Stereotypes Affect Us and What We Can Do”, Claude M. Steele, Norton, 2010

“Mindset: The New Psychology of Success”, Carol S. Dweck, Random House, 2006

“Successful STEM Mentoring Initiatives for Underrepresented Students”, Becky Wai-Ling Packard, Stylus, 2016

“Teaching Undergraduate Science”, Linda C. Hodges, Stylus, 2015