Most national Extension Professional Associations have life memberships status available to individuals who are association members when they retire.

This status occurs when the retiree makes a one-time dues payment. This amount is determined by the national association.

Life members are encouraged to attend association events and conferences. Life members are welcome to be active and participate in all aspects of the Association.

The following national Extension Professional Associations have life members connected with Oregon:

- ESP = Epsilon Sigma Phi
- 4-H = National Association of Extension 4-H Youth Development Professionals
- NACAA = National Association of County Agricultural Agents
- NEAFCS = National Extension Association of Family and Consumer Sciences
